

NO PENSIONS FOR "SPRING PULLETS"

Sherwood Does Not Approve of Young Girls Marrying Veterans.

SPEAKS FOR HIS BILL

Ohio Representative Makes Defense of His Dollar-a-Day Measure.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—An unqualified defense of his dollar-a-day pension bill was made in the House to-day by Representative Sherwood, of Ohio, as the closing speech of a day set aside to general debate on the cotton schedule tariff bill.

Instead of a pension bill based on age, such as was enacted by the Republicans in 1907, or proposed by the Suloway-Anderson bill, the Ohio Representative declared that the equitable bill, from the point of view of the men who really saved the Union, was a measure based on service and sacrifice.

He scathingly arraigned General Ketter, of Ohio; General Hall, also of that State, and John McElroy, editor of the National Tribune, for opposing his bill.

"General Hall," he told the House, "did not win his stars as a brigadier-general in the war, but by gallant conduct in the G. O. P., forty years afterwards."

General Sherwood filed a protest against the pensioning of "spring pullets," whom, he explained, were "girls who marry old soldiers on their last legs."

At the same time he expressed the belief that the present House could pass a pension bill, which would pension the widows of soldiers without working a fraud on the government by pensioning those who married just to get a pension.

Representative Hull, of Tennessee, discussed tariff revision, and scored the tariff as a political hypocrisy designed to delay tariff revision.

Mr. Hull said former President Roosevelt stayed the tariff storm by "throwing firebrands into the air so the people would not notice those falling on their heads." He said that with Republican promises for restoration of protective rates, "there will be the greatest fat-frying in the history of the country. Republican promises to revise the tariff, if restored to power, will again be made a pawn for enough millions to buy the American electorate."

Denouncing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, as an "abominable infamy" and "ghastly abortion," Mr. Hull said that when it was passed, each lobbyist, in ecstatic delight, departing saying: "I care not for the stars that shine; I only know that I've got mine."

HAVE UNEASY WEEK

Fear Explosion of Dynamite in One of Capitol Buildings.

Washington, July 29.—The police force of Washington and the special guards of government buildings here have had an uneasy week as the result of a threatening letter received several days ago addressed to Speaker Champ Clark. The writer of the letter, a man who described himself as a discharged employe of the Washington navy yard, declared in the letter that if Congress did not start a navy yard investigation by Thursday he would explode twelve pounds of dynamite that he had concealed in a prominent public building in Washington, and that Congress would "feel the shock."

The letter was signed "One who has been abused." It did not reach Speaker Clark, but was turned over by Private Secretary Bassford to Joseph Slinnot, doorkeeper of the House of Representatives. The latter laid it before Major Sylvester, chief of the Washington police force, and unusual precautions were taken to detect suspicious characters about the principal buildings. Thursday passed without incident, and the Capitol authorities breathed easier.

ENGAGEMENT IS FAST AND FEROUS

Red and Blue Detachments Fight It Out at Camp Sale.

OUTCOME IS IN DOUBT

Soldiers Use 10,000 Rounds of Ammunition, Making It Seem Real Battle.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Camp Sale, Culpeper, Va., July 29.—The last day of exercises consisted of a problem. A Red detachment of two battalions, under Colonel Perry, undertook to dislodge a Blue detachment, under Major Price. Major Price had entrenched himself in a very strong position, under cover of thick underbrush, and then awaited the coming of the hostile forces. The fight was sharp and furious, the outcome being in doubt, as it is the custom in such cases not to make a definite decision.

Captain R. S. Knox, United States Army, was the chief umpire, and was much pleased at the manner in which both detachments were handled.

People for miles around Culpeper took advantage of the opportunity to witness the manoeuvres, and were delighted with the sight. Ten thousand rounds of ammunition were used, and to the uninitiated it appeared that a real war was in progress.

Colonel Charles H. Consovo arrived this evening, and immediately began the payment of the troops for the service performed, requiring, in round figures, $1,500. This does not include the subsistence, the sum of $2,500 being expended for this item alone.

The mounted officers' race, in service uniform and equipment, was exciting, it being won by Major Parker. The First Regiment will leave tomorrow (Sunday) morning in three sections, the first section, under Major Price, at 7 A. M.; the second section, under Major King, at 8 A. M.; the third section, under Colonel Perry, at 9 A. M. This regiment has made many friends in Culpeper and the surrounding country, and much regret is expressed at its departure.

The Second, or Valley, Regiment arrives to-morrow, and a warm welcome awaits it. General Vaughan and his staff are to remain during the encampment of three weeks.

Much to the regret of his brother officers of brigade headquarters, Colonel Junius F. Lynch leaves for his home station to-morrow. Colonel Lynch is called home by reason of extreme illness of a patient.

Colonel Jo Lane Stern will not leave for Richmond Sunday, as stated in yesterday's dispatch, the urgent duties required of him at camp preventing.

Practical Home Helps

Indigestion, Bowel Trouble, Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

Put a nicely browned piece of toast in a small bowl of cold water and let it stand about an hour. To a glass of the strained toast water add a tablespoonful of Duffy's pure malt whiskey. If desired a little fruit syrup may be added for flavoring. This remedy has been used with excellent results and is very highly recommended by Dr. E. T. Hewson, of Detroit, Mich., who says: "It saved me from a threatened collapse when nothing else had any effect."

DAY OF DISASTER

West Indian Hurricane Causes Disaster to Shipping.

Boston, July 29.—Each hour to-day brought succeeding chapters of shipwreck, disaster and loss of life from the West Indian hurricane that reached the New England coast yesterday.

To-day four coastwise sailing vessels were fast on the rocks and beaches or helplessly adrift off the coast, while from Cape Cod to Bar Harbor there was scarcely a harbor that did not show disabled yachts. The principal vessels that met with accidents were: British schooner Tanager, wrecked off Bar Harbor; one man lost.

Schooner Catawamteak, ashore off Race Point, Cape Cod.

Schooner Lizzie, ashore off Portland.

Captain E. E. Ayer, waterlogged off Cape Cod.

The storm was very severe within a radius of 100 miles of Nantucket, and reports were anxiously awaited to-day from the fishing fleet off George's Bank, and from numerous yachts known to be going to the Southwest from Maine ports.

DISCHARGED FROM NATIONAL GUARD

Bugler of Company I, Second Regiment, Dismissed in Disgrace.

CENTRE OF RIOTOUS SCENE

Refuses to Attend Camp, and Resists Efforts of Squad to Arrest Him.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Winchester, Va., July 29.—Company I, Second Regiment of Virginia Volunteers, will leave Winchester early to-morrow morning for the regimental encampment at Culpeper without its bugler, Morgan Anderson, who was dishonorably discharged late last night by Captain James P. Itardson, after exciting scenes in the principal streets.

Members of the company had been ordered to report at the barracks to drill and make final preparations for the encampment, and Anderson is said to have refused to attend. He declared in a crowd on a street corner that he did not intend to go with the company, and that he could not be made to go. His remarks were reported to the commanding officer, who sent a squad after Anderson. The latter made repeated efforts to get away, and the soldiers charged him with bayonets, one of which he said to have pierced the calf of his leg. He finally was subdued and carried bodily to the barracks, where he was forthwith dismissed. A crowd of several hundred people followed the soldiers through the streets, cheering and hooting, and when Anderson was escorted to his home by a sergeant and several privates for the purpose of getting his soldier's equipment, the crowd increased and blocked the sidewalks to such an extent that militiamen had to clear a way through the jeering crowd of men, boys and young women.

As Anderson went in, hanging the front door, the crowd sent up a great cheer, and the young man was subjected to much derision.

Anderson, who is also the bugler of General Turner Ashby Camp of Confederate Veterans, is the first member of Company I to be dishonorably discharged. The company was organized several months ago with an enrollment of about seventy men.

LITTLE CHANGE FOR FOREIGN MEAT

Vienna, Austria, July 29.—The closing session of Parliament to-day was devoted to a discussion of meat question. The Premier, Baron Clamauer, von Frankfern, made an emphatic declaration that the government would never consent to proposals to open the frontiers for the importation of foreign meat, nor permit the country to be dependent upon transoceanic meat and the so-called American meat trust.

This brought angry protests from the Social Democratic Deputies, who shook their fists at the Premier and agrarians, calling them swindlers and traitors. The debate was notable for the unanimous support, which the Christian Socialists gave the agrarians in opposing the importation of foreign meat, and indicates that there is little chance of the Austrian consumers getting any more relief from the new Parliament than from the old.

DEPUTY WARDEN RESIGNS

Action Taken After Investigation of Serious Charges.

Leavenworth, Kan., July 29.—Frank H. Lemon, deputy warden of the Federal prison here, to-day tendered his resignation to Attorney-General Wickard, in response to a letter from the Attorney-General, dated July 23, 1911, resigning from the position of deputy warden.

The resignation of Deputy Warden Lemon follows an investigation made by agents of the Department of Justice, which has been under way for five months. The investigation resulted from charges that a deputy warden at the Federal prison had misappropriated a key prisoner from Alaska. This boy, Clarence Mattland, died in the penitentiary.

The remains of two additional bodies were recovered this afternoon on the beach deck, near the quarters of the warrant officers. These remains, like the others, present no possibility of identification.
